Consultation
Services*

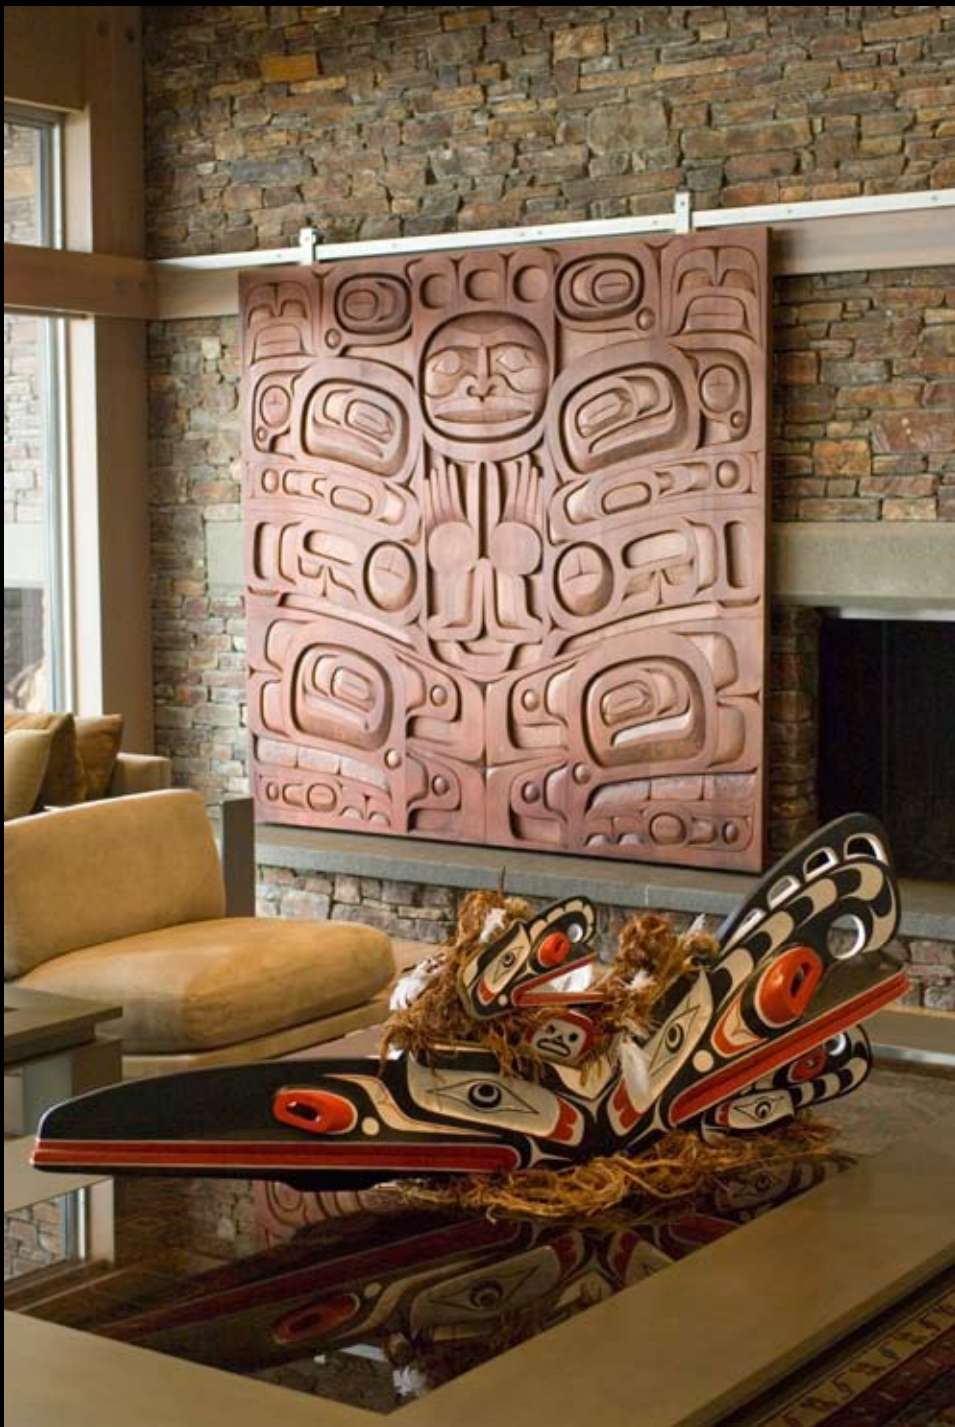

A close collaboration between Arctic Raven Gallery and the owners of this dramatic San Juan Island home, brought the warmth of Northwest Coast Native art to the home's large interior spaces. Outside, commissioned totem poles complement the spectacular cliff-side setting.

Arctic Raven's art consultation service also offers discerning interior designers, architects and corporate art consultants invaluable assistance in procuring outstanding Native masterworks to enliven their clients' interior or exterior spaces.

Featuring work by many acclaimed Native Artists, and custom commissioned work by Rande Cook.

The Gallery, located in downtown Friday Harbor, Washington, showcases a superior collection of contemporary works from the Pacific Northwest and Arctic regions. The depth of the collection allows a selection of works to be brought to the client's location to assist in choosing the most appropriate pieces.

Complimentary placement and simple installations are included for work going to nearby locations.

For custom design work, the Gallery serves as a liaison with acclaimed Native artists, commissioning specialized pieces and offering unique design solutions.

Arctic Raven is known for its exceptional service and knowledgeable staff. The gallery has become a resource for collectors and consultants, helping to transform many homes and public spaces with the power of magnificent Native art.

Please call us to set up a complimentary appointment. We enjoy offering this custom service to our valued clientele.
